BALMAIN GARDEN CONTEST

Column NINE

Association Plans Competition In Various Sections

The Balmain Association has decided to organise a garden competition for Balmain residents, and has in mind offering prizes in probably six sections to cater for all types of gardens and gardening in the suburb.

A special committee of the Association has been appointed to work out details of the competition, and it is hoped to be able to announce these before long.

The Association has had no experience in this field, and realises it will have to go slowly.

However, it believes that the spirit of the move will appeal to many Balmain residents.

The President of the Association, Mr W. Haesler, in making a preliminary announcement about the competition, acknowledged the encouragement to them given by "The Link" in the matter.

He said he appreciated this paper's approach to the question of arousing civic pride—an underlying spirit of the Association—and fully supported the concern it had expressed recently about the necessity to keep streets and home surrounds tidy.

Encouraging

In deciding to conduct a garden competition the Association felt that such an event could never make garden-lovers out of people who had no interest in nature.

However, it could be important in encouraging nature lovers

Also it could help to set on the right path those who, because of youth or absence of the right atmosphere, had not had an opportunity to appreciate what gardens meant to the world.

Mr Haesler agreed with "The Link" that one result of a garden competition could possibly be a tidying up of the exteriors of some carelessly tended homes.

He said that the Association would be able to offer only nominal prizes, but he thought "friends of Balmain" could assist by donating prizes for special sections.

The organisers of the Balmain chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, for instance, were known to be interested in district cleanliness and tidiness for its forthcoming formation.

He thought the Chamber might be interested in giving practical help to the Association's garden competition, in the form of one of the prizes.

Six Sections

The thoughts of the special committee of The Balmain Association are running in the direction of offering a prize for each of six sections.

These are:
 • Waterfront gardens.
 • Small gardens.
 • Flower boxes for those who have no garden, such as residents of home units and those in terrace-type houses fronting right on the street.

• Municipal gardens.
 • Street gardens.
 • Industrial gardens.

The Association is conscious of the marked improvement in some of the small Balmain parks, whose care has now been given by Leichhardt Council to individuals.

This alteration followed the serious complaint made in April to the Mayor (Ald. L. Rodwell) of inefficiency of Council staff in mowing footpath lawns and caring for the small parks (many in East Balmain). While this category would be confined to Council employees, the Association felt it would be an encouragement to the men concerned to know that the community appreciated their efforts.

The "street gardens" section would include residents' attention to the footpath nature strips.

In the "Industrial" section the Association had in mind such efforts as those of the Australian National Line in constructing a very pleasant little garden in Thames Street.

The Association will reserve the right not to award the prize in any section where this is not considered justified.

The Time

The time for judging entries is one matter being considered carefully.

November is favoured by some committee members.

It is realised, of course, that months must elapse before any special efforts by gardeners produce tangible results, and that it is too late this year for intending entrants to set about making a special planting of spring annuals.

On the other hand, some observers feel that too much stress has been placed in some major garden competitions on brilliant one-season displays, and too little consideration has been given to all-the-year programmes.

WOMEN'S FASHION PARADE

Balmain-Rozelle R.S.L. Women's Auxiliary offers its thanks to all those who co-operated to make the recent fashion parade such a success.

The proceeds went to the Children's Christmas Tree funds.

The Auxiliary offers special thanks to Mr and Mrs Hymn, of Fisher's of Balmain, for the extensive range of fashions made available.

The show was ably compered by Kitty Glover.

Flowers were supplied by Mr and Mrs Ray Cooper, of Rapid Florist, Rozelle, and music was taped by Mr Hands.

Thanks are offered also to the models, whose effort was described by the Auxiliary spokesman as "marvellous", as well as the girls who dressed and attended the models.

Shoes for the evening were generously supplied by Mr Moses, of Balmain.

ART SHOW FOR LEGACY

Under the auspices of the Five Dock R.S.L. Club and the Drummoyn Municipal Art Society, an exhibition in aid of Legacy will be held on Monday, June 15, at the Memorial Hall, 66 Great North Road, Five Dock.

It will be opened at 8 p.m. by Sir Erik Langker, O.B.E.

The exhibition will include works by such well known artists as Douglas Pratt, Brian Stratton, Dora Toovey, Sir Erik Langker, John Tiplady, David Harrison, H. A. Hanke and May Neill.

INFANTS' SCHOOL

Balmain Infants' School at Gladstone Park advises that an additional teacher has now been appointed to the staff.

Parents desiring to enrol children in the kindergarten now have an opportunity to do so.

Conference Sought On Terminal "Throwing" Problem

Following the strike by wharf men at the White Bay container terminal, who claim that things are being thrown down on to their parked cars. Ald. N. Origlass (Balmain ward) yesterday announced a move aimed at securing a conference between all parties.

The men are reported to have left the job because their request to be allowed to park their cars in an area of the terminal out of range of the missiles had been refused.

Ald. Origlass said he would seek suspension of Leichhardt Council's standing orders to discuss a motion calling for a conference.

His motion was to be put to this week's Council meeting (held last night, after this paper had gone to press).

The motion was: "Council sympathises with the workers of Seatainer Terminals Ltd., container shipping terminal at White Bay, who feel themselves endangered by falling objects."

"It calls on the Premier (Mr Askin, as head of the Maritime Services Board, to convene a conference of the Board, Seatainer Terminals Ltd., workers' representatives, Leichhardt Council, and representatives of the local residents."

"Council is particularly concerned with the noise generated by the travelling crane, dropping of containers, train shunting, engines and motor trucks."

"This noise, particularly throughout the night, is distressing to the nearby residents, whose right to reasonably quiet enjoyment of their premises is being disregarded by the Maritime Services Board and the company."

"The residents feel their residential amenity is being destroyed and their health ruined in consequence of the disregard of town planning principles manifested in siting the industry in a cramped space requiring the stacking of containers five-high, with consequent repeated handling—quite apart from the cost inflation involved."

"Council considers it the Premier's duty to insist on measures being instituted to minimise the intolerable nuisance to residents, a nuisance that will be amply authenticated at the conference called for."

Encouraging Gardening

The Balmain Association's decision to hold a garden competition is good news.

Garden lovers generally need little incentive to carry on their hobby, which is the friendliest type of human activity as it depends quite a lot on satisfaction from giving of your increase to others.

However, in a crowded area like ours, where home frontages are generally narrow, and garden space is restricted and often non-existent, only the really dedicated gardener survives.

In suggesting this move, "The Link" had in mind the effect it could have on encouraging gardening and on lifting up the appearance of the district.

Many residents now make the most of unpromising conditions by the care of pocket-handkerchief plots.

This at times spreads to footpath nature strips, bringing into sharp contrast the lack of care shown by others.

A competition could bring into the ranks of garden-lovers many who have not understood what gardening really means, thus helping both themselves and Balmain.

Only a handful of people can win prizes in such a competition, but many could win commendation both from the organisers and passers-by, as well as reaping real personal satisfaction.

If the gardening effort is matched by a little more care by some home-owners in tending the exterior of their homes—including, say, the use of a long withheld paint brush—then so much the better.

The result must be a better suburb to live in.

Bags For Garbage

The use of garbage bags would result in clean streets, free of papers and rubbish dropped in emptying tins.

As there is talk of paper houses, surely some suitable substance can be produced that would fill the disposal requirements?

A steady market is assured, as Councils would readily accept this alternative to the present unsatisfactory collection.

Dogs do not forage practically, and would not be likely to tear a sealed bag.

—Stella Scroggie,
Bradford Street,
Balmain.

Safety Of Pedestrians

As both a driver and an elderly pedestrian I applaud the warning to pedestrians by Police Inspector Rasmussen ("The Link", May 13).

I suggest for consideration by road safety authorities. Leichhardt Council and local businessmen the system used in Tokyo at "dicey", unmarked, uncontrolled crossings.

On each corner there are bins mounted on posts holding a number of small yellow plastic pennants attached to dowels about 30" long.

A pedestrian wishing to cross holds the flag in a prominent position. Some wave them at approaching traffic and take off. On reaching the other side the flag is placed in the bin.

Tokyo traffic, which is terrifying, scrupulously respects these flags, quite as well, I think, as our drivers respect our pedestrian crossings.

My wife and I, who had frequently to use a flag crossing near our hotel, never had an anxious moment.

—Ted Hamilton,
East Balmain.

Balmain Traffic

Keep up the good work! It would seem that accidents and incidents have to happen over and over again before action is taken on heavy traffic in Balmain.

Speed is another worry in our street, for it's evident that the larger the vehicle the faster it travels.

One corner—Cameron and Rowntree—is a beauty. Many accidents have occurred there lately, one man being killed—but no Stop sign.

I'm all for a Stop sign on every street joining a main street; or, just as they make giving way to the right a standing requirement, so they should make stopping at a corner automatic.

WESTERN SUBURBS FOOTBALL

Balmain Exchange kept their minor premiership hopes alive with a 6-5 win over Burwood United, last year's premiers.

Balmain lost the scrums 5-11, but managed to keep the score nil all at half time.

Burwood instigated many attacking movements, only to have them abruptly stopped by good defence.

The lack of ball, especially in the wet weather, with many passes going astray with the slippery ball, made Balmain's task harder.

Midway in the second half Burwood's hooker and Balmain second-rower Maxie Best were sent off.

Robert Henderson had his best game this year, with good ball distribution and consistent backing up.

The team are playing much improved football in recent weeks and are now considered to have a big chance to take out the competition.

Best and Fairest awards were: 3, Robert Henderson. 2, Johnny Hayes. 1, Greg Carr.

"Cracker Night" Special Police Patrols On

The Balmain police issue a warning to the public that they will take immediate action against people who commit offences, including the lighting of fires or the stacking of material for bonfires, on "cracker night" — next Saturday.

"Cracker night" is Commonwealth Day (Queen's Birthday).

Inspector L. Dingwell, second in charge of Balmain Police District, told "The Link" that the Balmain-Rozelle area was particularly vulnerable in respect of fire danger.

Consequently special precautions would be taken by police patrols that night.

Leichhardt Council has already issued a public announcement reminding residents of the Municipality that the lighting of bonfires is a breach of the Local Government Act.

So is the stacking of materials in preparation for bonfires.

In addition to being illegal, the act of stacking would make the offenders responsible to Council.

removal of such materials.

Inspector Dingwell said that the fine for a first offence of lighting a fire without written permission from the officer in charge of the nearest fire station was $10. This went to $40 for a second offence.

On the other hand, there was a $40 fine for a first offence against the bylaw under the Metropolitan Fire Brigades Act for stacking inflammable materials for a bonfire which could become, either directly or indirectly, a danger by fire to life or property.

Many people thought they did not break the law if the bonfire were lit, or prepared, on private property. That was not so, said the inspector.

The law applied to private property as well as public streets and areas.

Last year Rowntree Street, Balmain, was a special target for bonfire lighters. The police pulled down two or three bonfires.

This year special patrols would be watching out for bonfires and stacked bonfire material.

Mr Dingwell added that there was evidence in this area of the "vandalistic streak" which caused adolescents to throw crackers at cars.

Any such offender would be immediately arrested, he said.

He appealed to the public — as Leichhardt Council has also appealed — to co-operate in respecting the law on cracker night.

He said that the large number of timbered houses in this area called for considerably more restraint than in many other areas.

An Uninspiring Display

Balmain's Tigers bowed out of the premiership race with an uninspiring display against Eastern Suburbs, which resulted in a 14-7 defeat. Only for Barry McTaggart's determined try shortly after half time they would have gone tryless.

It's difficult to imagine a team capable of winning the premiership one year being an also ran by the start of the second round the following year.

Yet this is a cold, hard fact where the Tigers are concerned.

Only four wins from 11 games is Balmain's unimpressive record this season.

No doubt there'll be numerous reasons put forth by Balmain's upper crust as to why they have failed so badly.

I think the selectors have crucified the team with their odd selections, and must take the brunt of the blame.

Obviously Jacky Spencer is a forward, and not a full back, even though he is capable of making a good fist of the position.

Olaf Pratl definitely lacks the speed for the five-eighth position, and Len Killeen has not shown anything like his true form all season.

"Chicka" Outten was overlooked time and again, when it was obvious that his stout defence was a necessity.

Harold Browne obviously had lost his pace, yet he was continually named in the side, whereas a player of George Ruebner's ability was overlooked.

One selection I'm pleased to agree on was Greg Fryer, whose rather late admission to the first grade as lock forward proved without doubt that he should have held the position from the start of the season.

Greg is a strong 80-minute player, capable of playing in almost any position amongst the forwards, and his inclusion in first grade was greeted with a big display against Easts.

SCHOOLBOY ATHLETICS

Rozelle Boys' Junior High School held its annual cross-country running championships over a difficult and interesting course, from King George's Park through Callan Park to Leichhardt Oval.

Threequarters of the school finished the course, in races ranging from 1,500 metres to 3,500 metres.

House competition was very keen. Final points were: Elliot 81, Mort 78, Evatt 77, Balmain 67.

Elliot's win was the result of three firsts—D. Leonard in the 14 year group, T. Leonard 13 year, and J. Phillips 16-year group.

First eight boys in each age group will compete at the Mid-western C.H.S. Cross Country Championships, to be held this Friday at Brett Park, Drummoyne.

Other schools to compete will be Ashfield, Drummoyne, Ibrox Park, Enmore, Newtown, Dulwich and Fort Street High Schools.

Results were:

Now that Balmain appear to have Buckley's chance of reaching the semi finals I feel the time is right to blood a few of the younger players in first grade, with the 1971 season in mind.

Even though we lost all three grades against Easts, we still have high hopes of third grade making the finals, and if so, should prove very hard to beat.

Reserve grade appear to have forfeited any chance they had, with defeats at each of their last few games.

Next week we start the second round. With the first round 44-10 thrashing in mind it's difficult to imagine Balmain coming out on top in their clash against Manly, particularly on recent form.

As dyed in the wool Tiger supporters, of course, we must give our team full support, and hope they can find their true form.

Hearty congratulations to Artie Beetson from all Tiger supporters for

Move To Join Rozelle Traffic Lights

The long-promised co-ordination of traffic light signals on Victoria
Road, Rozelle, is in the offing.

Leichhardt Council last meeting granted permission to the Department of Motor Transport to erect a small brick structure in Graham Street, Rozelle, at its intersection with Victoria Road, to house a master control unit to handle the situation.

The Department advised its plans in a letter to the Council.

It said it was planning to provide co-ordinated traffic signals along Victoria Road between Iron Cove Bridge and The Crescent, Rozelle.

To this end it had let a contract for the provision of linking ducts. Provided funds were available it was proposed to carry out the rest

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO FACTORY PROPOSAL

Nearby residents' protest against the proposal to establish a joinery factory at No. 114 Terry Street, Rozelle, was heard by Leichhardt Council at its last meeting.

The protest was by 47 residents.

The proposal is to demolish a residential building at that location—which is quite contiguous to residential development—and replace it with a joinery factory.

One of the conditions of Council approval is that if any nuisance arises from the factory the firm would be obligated to get an acoustic survey of the operations.

When the petition was considered, Ald. N. Origglass (Balmain ward) asked why, in the case of such a well known source of noise nuisance as a joinery factory, the situation could not be reversed, and an acoustic survey be made first in order to influence the construction.

The Chief Building Surveyor, Mr Williams, said that when the plans were received Council would keep that matter in mind, having regard to the type of machinery that was to be installed.

of the work during next financial year.

As the system would be automatic, the structure would be occupied only for maintenance and emergency repair purposes. It asked Council to allow occupancy of the structure.

The Council's engineer, Mr G. A. Wilson, reported that the site in question was on an unmade section of Graham Street, and the proposed structure would not interfere with pedestrian traffic.

The Department undertook to remove or re-site the structure at its own cost if Council found that necessary.

Council adopted his recommendation to raise no objection to the proposal.

It accepted an addendum moved by Ald. Heferman (Rozelle) to remind the Department of its promise to reopen the median strip at Evans Street when it had introduced a system of co-ordinated signals.
